

SUFFRAGETTES ARE ENCOURAGED TODAY BY THE GOVERNORS

GOVERNOR HAY OF WASHINGTON ADVOCATES VOTES FOR WOMEN-SUFFRAGETTE IN ADDRESS.

CHOICE FOR PRESIDENT

Taft and La Follette Each Got Five Votes in Newspaper Poll-Speech by Governor Aldrich of Nebraska.

Spring Lake, N. J., Sept. 14.—Governor Hay of Washington today declared that Tacoma and Seattle cleaned out graft with women voters and predicted in a few years every state will have granted woman suffrage.

Victory of Suffragettes.
One of the most signal victories yet scored by American suffragettes was recorded today when the House of Representatives granted Dr. Anna Shaw permission to address the assembly for thirty minutes today.

La Follette Unmentioned.
In a speech remarkable for its total absence of reference to La Follette, Governor McGovery of Wisconsin reviewed the history and discussed the work of the public utilities commission of his state before the governors today.

After referring to the reasons for the establishment and the court rulings that legalized it, the governor told briefly of the commission's work in fixing rates, valuations and systems of uniform accounting.

"Time was in Wisconsin," he said, "when the railroads ran or tried to run the state government and the minor utilities sought to boss the cities, towns and villages. Now they no longer have anything to say and are intermeddling in politics and apparently have decided to retire for good. What is splendid is the participation of public life, no one here needs to be reminded."

Poll is Taken.
Spring Lake, N. J., Sept. 14.—In a newspaper poll the lineup of the newsmen governors attending the conference here on presidential preference are as follows:

For Taft: Tenner, Pennsylvania; Chase, West Virginia; Wilson, Kentucky; Day, Washington; Porter, Rhode Island.

For La Follette: McGovery, Wisconsin; Carey, Wyoming; Vosey, South Dakota; Stubbs, Kansas; Aitchison, Nebraska.

Noncommittal. Mass, New Hampshire; Hurdley, Missouri. The democratic vote seems agreed that their party nomination is now between Wilson of New Jersey and Harmon of Ohio.

Aldrich's Address.
Governor Chester H. Aldrich of Nebraska, author of the Nebraska railroad law, addressed the convention of governors today on "The Right of the State to Fix Interstate Traffic Rates." Governor Aldrich made a plea for state authority in the regulation of public utilities, and gave the results of the operation of the Nebraska rate law to illustrate his argument.

"We have just read in a recent decision of the nation's supreme court," said he, "wherein importance has been given to the legislative branch. It is now becoming quite the thing for federal courts of inferior jurisdiction to the supreme court to interfere with the rights of these sovereign states by interfering, meddling, and tampering with their laws and the power of the state, depriving them of their right to conduct their own internal commerce."

"The right to enact statutes and regulate such corporations to the end that only just and reasonable charges may be made is inherent in a state legislature for that commerce which lies wholly within its borders, and the power and duty to say what is reasonable and just when such an issue is tendered, devolves not upon the legislature, but upon the courts of this land."

"In other words, the idea that courts can legislate either directly or indirectly is repugnant to our entire scheme of government. When a court, in an issue tendered, has said that a certain rate or fixed charge is unjust and unreasonable, then it has used its power to the fullest extent, and the overwhelming weight of authority established these propositions, and when over a court steps outside of this particular province, it is not only unauthorized, but may be deemed justly outrageous power and authority that belongs to our government."

"It is here to say that the legislation of today, as carried on and regulated by the several states of this union, be it in the main, just and equitable and fair and that railroad companies doing business today under these regulations are prosperous."

"As a notable instance of this, I call your attention to my own state in its regulation of the common carriers therein. I here make the assertion that under the regulation through the freight rate law, the passenger rate law, and the railway commission, the railroads of the state of Nebraska are on a better business basis and on better terms with the people of the state and do business with them more satisfactorily than they have ever done before in the history of their existence."

their tracks, to make various connections, have forced them to change time schedules, have made them put on trains and have done innumerable things for the general betterment of the service of the company and the public.

"I know not what other states may do; I know not what other states may think. But I can speak for my own state and say that she demands the right and the privilege to be allowed to do the things which her sovereignty, her independence and her liberty says she may do."

"I say that my state will not only insist, but it will carry forward, at any and all hazards, its inherent governmental functions and in doing this, it stands in line with an unbroken chain of decisions coming down from the highest judicial body in the land, from the earliest day to the present."

"It will respect courts and court decisions. But as a condition precedent to all this, it demands that court opinions respect the sovereign power of these states in the regulation and control of their own purely internal commerce."

"At all times it asks these courts to do homage to the scheme of representative government and let the courts remember that tyranny clothed in the garb of judicial emulства has features as hideous as though in the hands of a czar."

GENERAL STRIKE IN ENGLAND PREDICTED BY LABOR LEADERS

England Said to be on Verge of Great Workingmen's Strike to Revitalize Present Conditions Among Laborers.

London, September 14.—It was while London was practically isolated from the rest of the world by the recent great strike of all its transport workers that Viscount Churchill, president of a meeting of the stockholders of the Great Western Railway declared it his opinion that the time was more than anything else, part of a "huge political scheme."

With what the Viscount said, few of the more enlightened of English workingmen have disputed to date. Great Britain has had an enormous number of workers' strikes and the railroad strike, which very nearly resulted in starving London to death, were the latest of them. That there will be still more in the near future is the general view in labor circles. In short, as labor leaders frankly admit, Viscount Churchill would hardly have been going too far had he described the transport workers and railway men's strikes, as part of a "huge revolutionary movement" rather than as part merely of a "political scheme."

The fact is that English workingmen are about tired, at last, of the way in which they have been ground into the earth for the benefit of the privileged classes. The workingman who, in the United States, would receive $25 or $30 weekly, gets in England, for the same work, $7.50 to $10.00, and the average employer's view has always been that he ought to consider himself fortunate to have employment at either of these figures. The cost of living is slightly lower in England than in the United States, but it is not by many, many per cent, as much lower as is the cost of labor. The employers have pocketed the difference and the employees have just managed to keep life in everything which American workingmen deem absolute necessities.

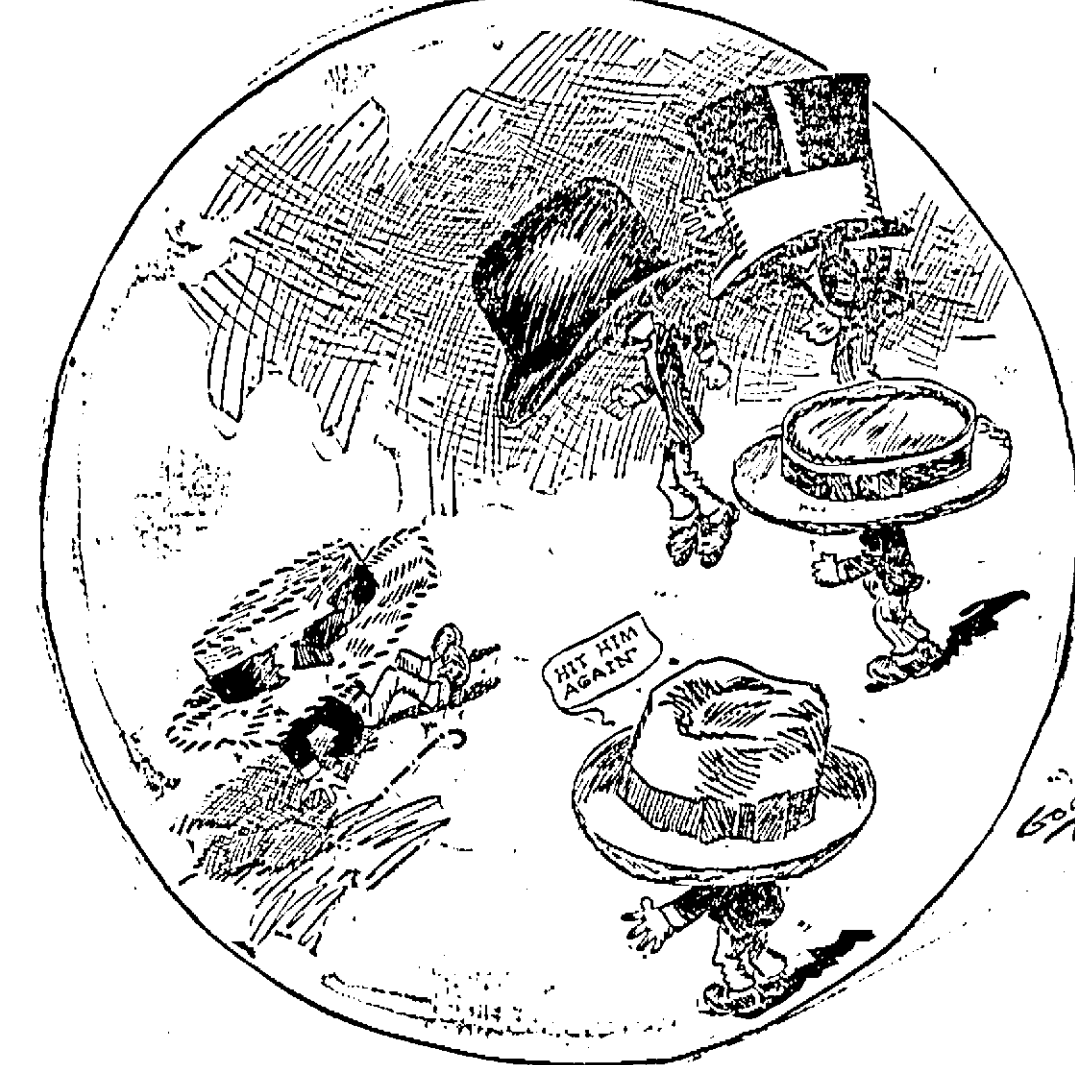

What the English workingman wants is an overhauling of existing conditions as will give them a fair share of the product of their labor—that is to say, an all-around wage increase of $17.50 weekly. Needless to say, they are not going to get any such enormous increase without a desperate fight. They realize this perfectly and are getting ready for the struggle. The recent strikes have been mere preliminaries towards it. It is true that each of them has been for improved working conditions or union recognition. They have also been, however, for much more than this. They have been "demonstrations in force." Intended to let the privileged classes know what the masses can do to them if they choose.

Of course the rank and file of the workingmen do not realize the larger purpose of the strikes, or if they do realize it, only realize it vaguely. Their leaders, however, realize it, perfectly and are shaping all their plans towards the ultimate success of the great campaign. They do not, indeed, believe that any strike by a single class of labor will accomplish that which they aim. Sooner or later they are convinced that a monster general strike of all classes of labor at once, totally paralyzing every branch of industry, from the smallest to the greatest, will be necessary. When this strike will come depends largely upon circumstances. The labor leaders are simply awaiting the psychological moment. Their opinion is that this may arrive with any of the more important tie-ups of an individual branch. It may come at any time.

It goes without saying that when it does come, "grave" will be too mild a word to describe what conditions will be in England. The labor leaders do not dispute their opinion that the government itself will be in such a dangerous position that it will be forced to yield on a social revolution when it comes, if a political revolution comes with it, very well.

DARING CANOEISTS IN TRIP ON GULF

Two Houston, Texas, Young Men Had Experience in Craving Rough Sea of Mexican Gulf.

Houston, Texas, Sept. 14.—Two Houston young men, Thomas Cottrell and Joe Silverman, the latter the former champion canoeist of the United States, recently completed successfully a precarious trip into Galveston bay and the open Gulf of Mexico in a frail 18-foot canoe, ending their trip through the breakers and landing safely on the beach at Galveston.

The feat probably was the first of its kind ever attempted in Southern waters. The canoeists were provided with paddles, stabilizers and a set of sails, especially rigged for the occasion. The start was made from Seabrook, just below Houston and the trip of 30 miles was made in eight hours.

From the start through Galveston bay the cruise was devoid of sensation, but when the frail craft attempted to pass the jetties at Galveston and to enter the gulf in the rough waters of the unprotected harbor opening, the difficulties of the trip began. The stabilizers were then brought into play and beyond a thorough wotting the canoeists succeeded in passing the harbor mouth and entering the gulf. The gulf was calm, but as the dash through the breakers was attempted as much speed as possible through the use of sails and paddles was put on and the frail little craft rode the crests and came to a safe landing on the crest of a huge wave high and dry on the sandy beach.

EMBASSY SITES ARE DIFFICULT TO BUY

Government Appropriations For Purchase of Buildings in Larger Foreign Cities Are Not Large Enough.

Washington, September 14.—The State Department is encountering considerable difficulty in finding suitable sites for embassies and legation sites abroad. When Congress passed the bill for purchase by this government of such buildings, it named $150,000 as the maximum price which could be paid for any one building. From estimates submitted to the department it now appears that this restriction may prevent Uncle Sam owning homes for his diplomatic officers in any of the big foreign cities.

It is only at the smaller posts, it is said, that the government will be able to purchase sites within this figure. It is possible that the State Department may ask Congress to make an exception in certain cases to permit extension of the law to such cities as London, Berlin, St. Petersburg, Paris and others.

NAME MADISON MAN FOR A SHORT TERM

L. B. Webster Appointed Secretary of Legislative Commission on Fire Insurance—Examination Later.

Madison, Wis., Sept. 14.—The state civil service commission has given notification that the position of assistant secretary of the legislative committee on fire insurance must be filled after examination. The committee assumed that inasmuch as it was a short-term position they might appoint a man whose qualifications they were satisfied with and accordingly named L. B. Webster of this city. The stenographer's position with the same committee will also be filled competitively. A short-term appointment has been made by the committee. It is probable the same action will be taken with respect to the assistant secretaryship of the legislative committee on text-books, now filled by Fred C. Shensky of Milwaukee.

Marathon, Sept. 14.—After searching all day for Walter McManis, five years old son of Owen McManis, a farmer of Webster's Prairie, the lad, thought to have been kidnapped, was found in a cornfield fast asleep late Wednesday night. It was reported shortly before noon today the child was yet missing.

In La Crosse, Sept. 14.—Police, aided by infuriated citizens are scouring this city today in an effort to locate the child who entered the four year old daughter of Fred V. Smith away from her home last night. The child was safely rescued. The man escaped.

LA FOLLETTE HAS NEW ENDORSEMENT

Senator Clapp of Minnesota Gives Out Statement That La Follette is in Lead of Progressives.

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 14.—United States Senator Moses E. Clapp thinks that there will be practically only one candidate representing the progressive element of the country at the next presidential election and that a vote for progressive principles would have to be cast for Robert M. La Follette.

Senator Clapp has just returned from the Pacific coast. He declared that La Follette sentiment there and in other western states is most encouraging and that while he was prepared for the demonstration he found in California, he was not for the Utah and other states. In effect he predicts that the people will have a victory for progressive principles or a democratic president and says that many politicians are not friendly to La Follette are recognizing this with the result that they are looking more kindly on his candidacy.

La Follette Not to Speak.

La Follette, Sept. 14.—Senator La Follette will not precede the visit of President Taft here in October with a speech, as planned by the newly formed Wisconsin Progressive Republican league. He will not make a political address in this state for several months. These statements were made by Walter Houser, Washington manager of the progressive republican campaign here today, concerning with progressive leaders. It was expected La Follette would make a formal announcement of his candidacy at the proposed meeting. According to Houser the senator will stay in Washington until November 1, making preparations for the campaign in other states. He will then make a tour of the west. Senator Cummins, of Iowa, or Clapp of Minnesota may speak here in place of La Follette.

OTHERS IMPLICATED IN LEMBERGER CASE IS DECLARED TODAY

Sheriff Brown Refuses to Give Details But Intimates That Others Than Johnson Are Concerned.

ARRESTS TO FOLLOW?

Suggested That Other Arrests May Follow Later—Johnson in Waupun—Jailers in Statement on the Case.

Madison, Wis., Sept. 14.—Sheriff Brown and District Attorney Nelson, after a careful consideration of the facts in the statement of John Johnson, who last night confessed to the murder of little Annie Lemberger, refused to make known the details at present. It is intimated that others than Johnson may be interested in the case and that arrests may possibly follow.

Johnson in Waupun.

[BY UNITED PRESS.]

Advices from Waupun today say of details in charge of John ("Dogskin") Johnson, who confessed the awful crime in connection with the mysterious kidnapping and murder of little Annie Lemberger, arrested safely with the prisoner at the penitentiary early today. The trip was made by automobile.

Jailers' Statement.

Fond du Lac, Sept. 14.—They arrived at the prison at 8:30 o'clock Wednesday night. The prisoner this morning began routine life in the knitting department.

No measurements were taken as Johnson left the prison only last July, these details being already on record. Jailers who know Johnson well, declared last night that they believe he was driven to the confession through inhumanity fear and that he is not wholly guilty as he says.

Sheriff Brown, who accompanied the murderer to the prison, declared on his arrival last night that Johnson made several new admissions in relation to the crime on his way to Waupun, but the sheriff refused to say what they were.

AGRICULTURE FIELD FOR JOURNALISTS

Money Aggregating Two Hundred Dollars Offered To Students in Agricultural Journalism This Year.

Madison, Wis., Sept. 14.—Two sets of prizes aggregating two hundred dollars have been offered to students in the course in agricultural journalism at the University of Wisconsin this year. The American Berkshire Association offers $75 in prizes for the best original articles on the history, characteristics, and merits of the Berkshire pig. Another set of prizes has been offered by the officers of the International Livestock Show for articles on the show. Several other prize competitions are expected to be announced at the opening of the university on September 27.

Cheese Makers Scarce.

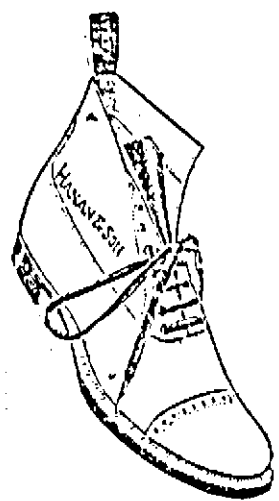

Good buttermilk and cheese makers are scarce in Wisconsin. The College of Agriculture of the University of Wisconsin has had during the past year about twice as many calls for competent and trained dairy workers as the school could supply. This exceptional demand is said to be due to the increasing number of creameries of Wisconsin as to the growing demand for well trained men. Salaries for such qualified men are becoming higher each year. The greatest demand is for cheese makers, and it is interesting to note in this connection that practically one half of all the cheese factories in the United States are in Wisconsin.

PROFESSOR IN TRIP OVER RUGGED LAND

Prof. A. W. Johnson of University of Minnesota Had Dangerous Journey Through British Columbia.

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 14.—Pressed through 800 miles of a section of British Columbia on which before the trend of man was never known, passing through all the privations of travel, through perilous woods and rivers, where there was no light except three hours of dusk, Professor A. W. Johnson, of the department of geology, University of Minnesota, is today back at his work at the university.

His health impaired by the experience but retaining a most wonderful tale of the country, Professor Johnson declared he would not make the trip again for all the gold in the world. Endless tramping over mountains, exposure to pestiferous insects, the unwholesome subjection to hot days and cold nights, ten days of subsistence on bear meat and an attack by a bear which he killed with his knife, were incidents of the journey, as related by the professor and his party. The party consisted of Professor Johnson, John C. Schmidt, another geologist, a cook and five Indian guides. Six weeks were spent in the interior without seeing a human being. Professor Johnson left Minneapolis May 17 in the interests of science. He was also employed by the Canadian government to make a geological map of the unexplored region.

PROGRESS IS MADE IN GREEN COUNTY

(By W. M. Mylrea.)

The history of Green county is quite unique in the history of Wisconsin. University Bulletin 211 recently published states that the population born in Switzerland and now living in Green county practically exceeds all the other Swiss born population of the state. The Swiss population outside of Green county is located chiefly in Dane, La Fayette and Iowa counties. This condition has existed since the admission of Wisconsin into the Union. The result is that the Swiss people being native to the dairy industry followed the same in their new home. The dairy map of the State of Wisconsin shows that the dairy interest of Green county is more dense than in any other county in the state. The writer remembers meeting a gentleman residing in New Orleans, who related the following incident. Being very fond of Swiss cheese he stopped at the store of his grocer and ordered a portion to be sent to his home. As he paid for the same he jokingly said: "Of course for this price you are giving me imported Swiss cheese." The grocer replied: "I am giving you the best Swiss cheese to be had." He further said that he did not think there was a pound of Swiss cheese to be found for sale in any grocery store in New Orleans and that the best Swiss cheese to be had either native or imported was made in Green county, Wisconsin. To this the customer replied that it was good enough for him as he was originally a Wisconsin man. All who are at all familiar with Swiss cheese and accustomed to its use will readily bear witness to these facts. It is said that there would not be pastureage enough in all Switzerland for all the cattle necessary to produce the amount of so-called imported Swiss cheese.

Green county is situated on the southern border of the state, and according to the recent United States census, has a population of 21,511. The total farming area in that county is 379,220 acres. When you deduct the amount of area occupied by cities and villages it is very evident that Green county has been well developed. There has been practically no gain in population during the last decade in Green county. On the other hand the increase in the value of farm property during the last ten years is over 77 per cent. In 1900 the value of all farm property in Green county is given as $20,770,174. In 1910 this was increased to $36,490,211. These figures are taken from the last United States census. The increase during that period was $15,720,037. Of this increase almost $12,000,000 appears to have been in the increase in the value of farm lands alone.

The price of farm land in 1900 was given as $37.70 per acre, while in 1910 the average price per acre was $70.75. The increase in value is easily understood when it is known that the value of domestic animals in 1910 was $4,710,775, or nearly $5,000,000. The value of cattle on the farms, also, is given at over $2,000,000. While Green county is known as a cheese county, nevertheless, the bulletin above referred to gives the county credit for producing over 800,000 pounds of butter per annum. In 1905 Green county produced 10,229,907 pounds of cheese, and five years later produced 12,633,491 pounds, being an increase of 2,403,584 pounds, at the same time the increase in the quantity of butter amounted to 419,213 pounds.

The writer being a resident of Marathon county for over twenty-five years is compelled to glance at the figures with Green county. With a total land area of 994,550 acres, and with 522,876 acres now classed as farm lands, an increase of over 134 per cent., the results in Green county must seem amazing to those of us who are so much from Marathon county. The gain in Marathon county in the production of butter in the five years preceding 1910 was over 500,000 pounds. The total production of cheese in 1909 given in the bulletin already quoted was 2,472,174 pounds, being an increase in the last five years of 1,318,466 pounds. To quote from the bulletin cited shows that a new cheese territory is being developed in Clark, Lincoln and Marathon counties. "The counties of Lincoln with an increase from 4 to 13, Marathon with an increase from 13 to 51, and Clark with an increase from 27 to 50 constitute an important cheese section in northern Wisconsin." Does it not follow that the farmers of the three counties named can hope in the near future to furnish at least twice as much cheese, because of greater area as Green county, without crowding out any other agricultural industry? When that day comes Marathon county will produce, instead of one fifth of the production of Green county, twice as much as Green county, or over 25,000,000 pounds of cheese annually. If the lands of Marathon county follow the increase per acre, so that the value would be $70 per acre instead of $29 per acre, who can measure the property that will naturally follow? The lands of Clark and Lincoln counties being practically the same as Marathon will be correspondingly benefited. Cheese will be a future staple as a substitute for meat.

TO PREVENT VIOLATION OF SPONGE FISHING LAW
Revenue Cutter "Forward" Sent to Florida to Secure Law Enforcement.
(By United Press.)
Washington, D. C., Sept. 14.—A difficult task confronts the revenue cutter Forward which has been ordered to the Keys of Florida to enforce the law regulating the taking of sponges. In a report received at the Treasury Department the commander of the revenue cutter says that he found a number of schooners and sloops on the sponge fishing grounds but was unable to get evidence of violation of the law. Many of these vessels were equipped with diving apparatus. It was easy for the men on any sponge seeking ship violating the law to suspend the diving when the Forward came into sight and to throw overboard sponges taken illegally.

Recent years he has been general agent for the American Sighting Company, and placed the chairs in the Myers Theatre.

Miss Katherine Donnelly.

The funeral of Miss Katherine Donnelly, who died yesterday morning at the home of her brother, Michael Donnelly, 303 South Franklin street, will take place tomorrow morning at nine o'clock at St. Patrick's church. Interment will be made in Mt. Olivet cemetery.

Mrs. Thomas Rabyor.

Funeral services over the remains of Mrs. Thomas Rabyor, who died yesterday afternoon at Mercy hospital, will be held at St. Mary's Catholic church on Saturday morning at 9:30. Interment will be made in Mt. Olivet cemetery.

Mrs. Rabyor, who lived eight miles north of this city, leaves to mourn her loss a husband and four children. She also many other relatives and friends in and near this city.

Mrs. M. J. Denning.

Sunday morning, Sept. 3, Mrs. M. J. Denning, aged 75 years, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. N. B. Robinson, Nineteenth and Rutland sts., Houston Heights, Texas. She is survived by the daughter and one son, George Plowright, of St. Louis; also four brothers, Stephen Taylor of Westmoreland, Kansas; Richard Taylor of Sycamore, Ill.; James and William Taylor of Oklahoma. For many years she resided in Janesville. The funeral occurred Monday afternoon, Sept. 4th, at 2 o'clock from the residence of her daughter, with services conducted by Rev. Mr. Ammons. Interment was made in Glenwood cemetery.

Christian Laczow.

Janville, Sept. 14.—By the sudden and unexpected death of Christian Laczow at his home, his daughter, Mrs. F. Kuzie at this place yesterday afternoon, Rock county has lost another of the sturdy farmers that have helped so much to bring the country districts of this section to the front. For some time past Mr. Laczow has had slight attacks of heart trouble and yesterday afternoon at about 4:30, while his daughter was absent he suffered another attack to which he succumbed before any of the family could reach his side. When his daughter returned a short time later she found life extinct.

Christian Laczow was a German by birth and spent most of his life of sixty-seven years on a farm in Madison. About a year ago he moved to this city to live with his daughter and has remained here since that time. The funeral services will be held at the home at 10 o'clock Saturday morning and then taken to the German church at Center, where the final services will be held at 2 p. m. Interment will be made in the Center cemetery.

REBELS ROUTED IN MOROCCO

Spanish Troops Are Victors Over Tribesmen—Many Killed.

Madrid, Sept. 14.—Messages from Melilla, Morocco, bearing no date and delayed by the official censor, tell of desperate fighting between the Spanish garrison there and the rebel tribesmen. These reports say the Spaniards were victors. The Spanish loss is placed at 19 dead and 77 wounded. The losses of the tribesmen are said to have been between 600 and 700.

The natives, it is said, attacked and drove in the outposts of General Orozco's garrison and then attacked the main body of the Spanish troops in the city. They were repulsed after many hours of fighting.

BABY DROWNS IN VINEGAR

Child Escapes Watchful Eye of Mother and Is Found Dead.

Peoria, Ill., Sept. 14.—The two-year-old daughter of Edward Moore, a farmer living near Allentown, Ill., fell head first into a tongue-liner jar of vinegar and was drowned before help arrived. The baby ran from where her mother was working and a few minutes later was found dead.

Edward Moore, the father of the dead baby, is a son of W. A. Moore, formerly state senator and one of the wealthiest men in the state.

MACCABEES HAVE NEW HEAD

John B. Mollwain Is Elected Past Commander of Knights.

Port Huron, Mich., Sept. 14.—John B. Mollwain of this city was elected past commander of the Knights of the Modern Maccabees to succeed the late Maj. N. S. Boynton, who founded the order. The question of an increase in rates has been referred to the executive committee, and a report will probably be made before the end of the present great camp review.

Biggest Hog Is Found.

Montgomery, Mo., Sept. 14.—Perhaps the biggest hog in the world has been discovered in the possession of J. R. Robinson, who lives near Bowling Green, and has been brought overland for exhibition here. It weighs 1,700 pounds and is nine feet from tip to tip.

Modern View of Crime.

Fifty or 60 years ago crime was ruthlessly dealt with in this country. Modern times are directed to the uplifting and improvement of the community.

EYE BADLY BURNED BY HEATED METAL

Harold Dolan Nearly Loses Eye When Hot Dabbitt Exploded and Burned His Face.

While handling hot dabbitt that exploded as the result of gas or steam forming in the metal, Harold Dolan, machinist, at the shop, nearly suffered the loss of an eye yesterday when the burning metal splattered into his face, burning it badly.

His eye was covered by the hot dabbitt which immediately cooled and formed a coat over it and it is considered remarkably that the ball of the eye was not more seriously injured. Fortunately, the eye closed suddenly as the metal splattered and only a small amount of the dabbitt came in contact with the eyeball. Particles of metal that entered between the lashes scratched the eye painfully in being removed.

Mr. Dolan was brought to the city at once and was attended by Dr. Mann who dressed the burns that extended about the eye and a portion of the cheek. He will be unable to resume his duties at the shop for at least a week or ten days.

George Dransfield had the first finger of his right hand badly crumpled yesterday while at work in the shop. A heavy equalizer fell on the finger and inflicted a painful wound that will incapacitate Mr. Dransfield for duty for some time.

Roundhouse Foreman Hoffman spent yesterday in Chicago where he attended a meeting of shop foremen held at the office of Master Mechanic E. W. Peterson.

"Bob" Erdman, call boy at the shop, started today on a vacation of a week or ten days and expects to attend the state fair and to visit with friends in Milwaukee.

Eddie Sullivan is taking the place of Erdman on the callboy job today.

Machinist McManis has resumed work after laying off for a few days.

Hugh Davey, who recently succeeded in passing the fireman's examination, is on duty with Engineer Gestland on the 7 p. m. switch engine.

Engineer Townsend is off duty for a few days and is relieved by Kauffman.

Fireman Pat Davey is taking Engineer Kauffman's place on runs 513 and 518.

Night Caller J. Fish is laying off for a week, and after today will be relieved by Eddie Sullivan.

Engineer Starritt and Fireman R. K. Smith are running engine 1413 on the wrecker this morning replacing a few cars that were derailed in the new yards.

Fireman Yates is running on 588 and 595 today.

Fireman John Kothlow made a business trip to Chicago this morning.

THREE BRIDGES ARE WRECKED BY FLOOD FROM HEAVY STORM

St. Paul Road Near Gratiot Was Badly Damaged As Result of Heavy Rain—Traffic Tied Up on Branch Line.

A storm that resembled a cloud-burst visited sections of La Poudre and Green counties last night, doing considerable damage to crops and crushing out three bridges on the St. Paul railroad in the vicinity of Gratiot. One bridge on the main line between Monroe and Gratiot, another between the latter place and Mineral Point, and a third on the branch line between Gratiot and Shullsburg were swept away or so seriously damaged that travel over them was considered unsafe.

At the station in Gratiot water stood about four inches deep on the floor of the depot. The surrounding country was badly flooded and much damage was done to the farms in the neighborhood. On account of these washouts no tickets were sold at the local depot this morning on the Mineral Point division beyond Gratiot. Traffic of all kinds in that section is tied up and crews have been set to work to repair the damaged tracks as soon as possible.

SPECIAL TRAIN SERVICE TO MONROE, FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

Tomorrow and Saturday the local people who wish to attend the fair at Monroe will be accommodated by a special train that will leave here at 8:55 and arrive at Monroe at 10:30. Returning, the same train will leave Monroe at 7:30 p. m. Following is the schedule:

Leave Janesville 8:55
" Hanover 9:12
" Orfordville 9:27
Arrive Monroe 10:30

Returning, leave Monroe 7:30 p. m. In addition to the special service for these two days there are four extra coaches from here to Monroe today on the early train and similar service will be given on the Mineral Point division. Floods that damaged the tracks beyond Monroe last night have interfered, however, and prevented many from coming to the Monroe fair from that part of the state.

W. Alexander, district master mechanic of Milwaukee, called at the local shops today.

Engineer and Mrs. Wilkinson and Engineer and Mrs. Kohler are attending the state fair at Milwaukee today.

P. Kuelling is relieving Wilkinson on runs 91 and 92, and Engineer Clark is taking Kohler's place on 173 and 171.

Engineer Rooney is relieving Smith on the switch-engine.

Engineer Hagdon and Fireman Lovass, on engine 755, double-headed train No. 1 to Mineral Point last night and returned early this morning with the same engine on train No. 8.

Switchman John Behrendt suffered a sprained ankle yesterday afternoon and will be laid up for a few days on that account. He is being relieved by Switchman Marshall.

Switchman Briggs spent the early part of the day with the wrecking crew replacing the cars that were derailed in the South Janesville yards.

Marie Antoinette's Guillotine.

The question is being mooted as to which was the first guillotine. On this point a sixteenth century machine with a silex blade, invented by one Jacques Callot, has been found to decapitate sheep in the most admirable manner. Which machine of the type invented by Guillotin was first put to its dread use is not known, but that used for the execution of Marie Antoinette still exists in Berlin.

Gout the Foe of Consumption.

Sir Dyer Duckworth in his address to the British Faculty of Medicine said that many persons were constitu-and gout, but an important characteristic in such cases was the accumulation of the uric acid in the joints of the fingers. The more rheumatic or gouty a person was the less pronounced was his tendency to consumption.

Little Bed-Time Tales By EDITH HAVENS

The Sleigh Ride

THERE was an air of excitement in the little country schoolhouse.
A new fall of snow had made the promise of a sleigh-ride on the part of the teacher possible and already there was much talk that it would be held on the following evening.

Great was the joy indeed when during the afternoon session the teacher announced that the sleigh-ride would be held on the following night and when school was dismissed, the boys and girls raced home to tell their mothers and fathers of the wonderful news. The next day was a beautiful crisp winter's day and the snow glist-ened with an almost diamond light in the sunshine. Nine o'clock found every pupil of the school in their seats and do you know never did a class work harder than they. The morning session went very quickly, but along towards the middle of the afternoon the time dragged ever so slowly. It seemed as if the time for the sleigh-ride would never come.
Finally after what seemed to be a very long time, the hands of the clock pointed to the hour of four and then came the welcome teacher's bell, which meant that school was through for the day. With a cry, the boys and girls rushed to the yard and there they saw a large pung filled with straw with four horses attached, awaiting them.

How they laughed as they piled in and presently the teacher appeared and away they started. The horses dashed along over the snow as fast as could be, while behind in the pung the children shouted and sang at the top of their voices.

The sharp air brought roses to their cheeks and do you know they felt as warm as toast?

After a while, it began to grow dark and suddenly one of the little girls shouted, "Oh look, the moon!"
Sure enough, there was the soft yellow moon, peeping down at them from over the hill ahead.

It was a perfect night and the stars hung like little silver lanterns of fire in the sky. There were thousands of them.

But the greatest fun of all, was still to come. They were driving straight towards the great city, where they went very seldom and the teacher had promised to buy them steaming hot chocolate and candy.

Presently they came to the outskirts of the town and how they shouted as they dashed along the street. People passing along paused to wave at them.

And then they droye into the city square.

What a wonderful time they had.
Back to the country they drove again a bit sleepy, but still singing merrily and do you know it was after eleven o'clock before the last child had been left at the door of his home? It was quite late for a little boy or girl to be out, but it only happened once in a great while—so perhaps after all it was alright.

RIGHT, McFARLAND.

amount ranging from $5 to $10 they had paid to see fighters Wolgast and McFarland meet here tomorrow night.
Because the authorities refused to allow the bout, promoters reiterated today they were victims of political prejudice.

The following is the opinion of Oscar H. Morris on the Wolgast-Mc-Farland bout, which was to have been held at the Auditorium in Milwaukee
this week Saturday.

Wolgast Should Win.

This is the conclusion I reached after knowing and watching McFarland and Wolgast.

The latter's real start was made here and some of his toughest fights in his earlier days were pulled off in Milwaukee. I have watched him grow from a preliminary boxer to a champion. Packey McFarland appeared in Milwaukee several times and I have a good line on him including his two fights in one night in the same ring at the Milwaukee Athletic club.

That night his name was not Mc-Farland. Packey's best fight in this country was with Freddie Welsh, one of the fastest lightweights in the business. It took place here and Malachy Hogan gave it to McFarland
although it looked like a good draw.

Taking McFarland's best work in the ring and comparing it with Wolgast's best work in the ring, the "wise" man will pick the champion.
Looking into their records, analyzing their past performances, considering the weight proposition, doping their respective ability as boxers, their constitutional powers, the question of taking punishment, the subject of giving punishment—in fact, look at it from almost any viewpoint, Wolgast to me looms up as the better lad and therefore is picked to win.

Of course the followers of McFarland will advance arguments showing why the Chicago boy should win, but from this neck of the woods it seems that most of those arguments can be overcome. Anyway, arguments don't win in the squared circle.

devoured; Wolgast will have the advantage of having the same men in his corner who seconded him in all his important fights and who know just what to do at the right time.

Should Packey be strong at 123 pounds he will put up a much better fight than Wolgast's followers anticipate, but should he be weak from taking off flesh, there is a chance—from the Wolgast view—that the Chicago boy will not last ten rounds. However, "dope" gives Packey the right to be on his feet at the end of ten rounds with the popular decision going to the champion. If fans think Packey will get a chance to display his skill as a boxer, and that Wolgast will try to outbox him, they have another guess coming. There is every reason to believe that Wolgast will tear into his man, and if he does he will win.

As in other big contests it may be a case of "I told you so" or "dope went wrong," but to the real boxing fans the same good and true expression is heard—"May the best man win."

The Building of Life.

Life is a building. It rises slowly day by day, through the years. Every new lesson we learn lays a block on the edifice which is rising silently within us. Every experience, every touch of another life on ours, every influence that impresses us, every book we read, every conversation we have, every act of our commonest days, adds something to the invisible building.—J. R. Miller.

For a Boli.

The skin of a hollow egg is the most efficacious remedy that can be applied to a boli. Peel it carefully, wet and apply to the part affected. It will draw off the matter and relieve the soreness in a few hours.

THE ROAD TO HEALTH.

"It was something like three years ago that an ambitious bookkeeper complained to the writer of his inability to keep his eyes open the moment he applied them to books of an evening after work. Since boyhood he had contributed to the support of a family of seven, and now at the age of twenty-four he desired to take up shorthand and to carry a correspondence course or two. If by hook or by crook he did manage to work until eleven or twelve o'clock his mind would be dull and heavy next day. At one time he was so ill advised as to try drinking strong tea for supper. Tea kept his eyes open all right, but headaches began to manifest themselves, and sleeplessness and other symptoms of nervousness put in appearance.

"The young man dropped the tea, and the headaches and nervousness disappeared almost immediately, but evening work was still impossible. The writer suggested to him that he discontinue his supper, eating at most an apple or other fresh fruit, or perhaps a small bowl of cereal flakes with the juice of a stewed fruit. He adopted the suggestion, adding to it one of his own devices—that he be careful at all meals to choose only the digestible foods—and before a year had elapsed his knowledge of shorthand had gained him a private secretaryship to the president of his concern, and he is now a small stockholder. He had capitalized his time.

"An eminent political economist recently ventured the assertion that not more than one person in ten is healthy—meaning by 'healthy' not 'just so so,' but positively, vitally, actively, radiantly so. The other nine sort of worry along, some in positive ill health, the others neither sick nor well, both classes a burden to themselves and to those who are obliged to live and work with them. And inasmuch as these persons are so preponderantly in the majority it is pertinent to ask, 'Can health come back?'

"The answer is most emphatically, 'Yes.' If you are willing to deny yourself accustomed luxuries, self-denial—that is the price of getting well. It sounds a good deal easier than parting with good food, but most people prefer contributing to the support of a physician to giving up one of their three or four daily meals, or a cup of tea.

"This article, from the 'Technical World' for October, is suggestive of the trend of thought these days for even the medical schools throughout the land are coming to realize that the 'road to health' is the highway of preservation rather than through the pill-box and proverbial black bottle.

An all-wise Creator planned the body for endurance, and given a fair start in life, barring accident, there is no reason why the average mortal should not live out allotted time, providing the laws of health are observed.

the demands of this class of stomachs and a long list of premature mortality is due to the same cause.

THE EVENING PAPER.

Clayton D. Lee, president of the United Press Association, was in the city yesterday and in discussing the relative popularity of the morning and evening papers, said: "The evening paper is recognized throughout the country as the home paper, and even in the large cities is rapidly filling the field at the expense of morning publications."

Mr. Lee is in position to know for the news service he represents covers the country from coast to coast. The old New York Tribune, which at one time stood at the front in the morning field, gradually declined to a circulation of less than 15,000 and only partially recovered when the price was reduced to a penny.

The important happenings of the world occur in the daytime, and no argument is necessary to convince any thoughtful mind that any enterprising evening paper is in position to secure all the news that is fit to print.

The crimes of the world seek the shelter of darkness, and whatever there is of value connected with them from a news standpoint belongs to the morning field. The Madison child murder with all its sickening details, was being cried on the streets this morning, and served as a sweet morsel for the breakfast table, but this sort of news is demoralizing to the home. The evening paper is read and not "skipped" over. It becomes in time a part of the home equipment, the same as the family bible. The circulation of every paper is based on the double standard of quantity and quality, and the latter has much to do with its value as an advertising medium.

The "Evening Wisconsin" has long been recognized as the home paper in Milwaukee, and while its circulation is not as large as some of its rivals in the evening field, its advertising columns are well patronized because of its well established reputation for quality. It is a clean and wholesome journal.

The Gazette has long attempted to "keep the quality up," and the liberal support enjoyed is evidenced by its circulation statements which appear in each issue.

The civil service law is frequently a bar to efficient service, as has been discovered in the case of Dr. Egan, secretary of the State Board of Health, in Illinois. After fourteen years of protected service an effort is now being made to get rid of him, and his removal will follow unless civil service protection interferes.

Quick justice came to the man, Johnson, who confessed late yesterday afternoon to the brutal murder of the little girl at Madison. Sentenced last evening he enters the state prison today to serve a life sentence. It is difficult to account for the motives of this class of criminals, and the only safe place for them is behind the bars.

The Christian Science Monitor is the only secular paper in this country which is admitted to the prisons without examination by the officials. The columns of the paper are free from records of crime, and so clean and wholesome that even the criminal may read without contamination.

Mayor Ella Wilson of Hunnswell, Kansas, is having all sorts of trouble with her administration. She is now engaged in an effort to have the board of aldermen removed. The right of suffrage is a good thing, but the official life of a suffragette is not always rosy.

New England is with President Taft and a strong delegation of representative men visited Beverly yesterday to bid him "God-speed" on his western trip. President Taft is gaining in strength and popularity, and his renomination is not a matter of doubt.

There is no occasion for organization in the state in the interests of Senator La Follette. He will be permitted to name his own delegates to the national convention, without opposition, but the republican vote of the state will be for Taft in 1912.

The leading prohibition paper in Maine, the Portland Evening Express, founded by the late Nell Dow, inadvertently reported that the state had gone wet by 500 majority, as early reports indicated. The paper is being freely criticized for the blunder.

An old fashioned tornado swept over central Illinois yesterday, doing great damage to the capital at Springfield. Southern Wisconsin is fortunate in escaping this class of storms.

The Farm Press Association, at its annual session in Chicago, yesterday, voted to exclude all fake land advertising from its columns. This will be bad news for southern land promoters.

UNCLE WALT
THE POET PHILOSOPHER
(Copyright, 1909, by George Matthew Adams.)
By WALT MASON.

I used to work for Mr. Knox, a farmer who had lots of rocks. I left my couch at break of day and toiled until the dusk was gray. And when the evening meal was over I had to do chore after chore. I had to feed a milk cow, a milk about a million ways. And never once did Mr. Knox remark to me: "Well done, old Sox!" He never cheered my dismal days by handing out a word of praise. What wonder then, that in my ire, I set his house and barn on fire, and swiped a wagon-load of straw, and carried off his mother-law? I went to work for Mr. Dennis, and plowed his corn and hoed his beans, and when I came in from my toil, all plastered over with sweat and soil, he always had some kindly word the called me looking, peachy and bird. And so my labor was delight, and though fagged out and worn at night, I trotted blithely out of doors and gaily did a million chores. If all employers only knew how much a word of praise will do, the sullen workmen that we see would do their little stunts with glee.

THE PURE OF THE MOMENT

APPEARANCES.
Copyright 1911, by C. N. Mather.

He wore side whiskers on his map. Was always trim and sleek. A deacon in the church mayhap, His manner was so meek. His silk hat shone, his white tie gleamed, Above a spotless vest.

The folks admired him for he seemed So far above the rest. He looked so prosperous withal, It surely seemed a must. Be a prophet for the street called Wall The head of some great trust.

He wore a deep and abstract air. As though absorbed in thought Upon some weighty world affair. His mighty brain had wrought, His face was quite emotionless. The end and pensive mind. And no man in the town could guess Just what was in his mind. They thought he was a man of fame, And so they set him down As a professor with a name. That had won great renown. P. N. But he—wasn't. He was neither a scientist, a savant, a cabinet member, a capitalist or a minister. They found afterward to their regret That he was the finest old poker player that ever struck the village and he carried away a suitcase full of yellow backed bills.

ACCORDING TO UNCLE ABNER.
Lon Parly is very versatile. He is so peaked headed that he can wear any size hat from a five to a seven.

Out in Kansas the grass is so short that they have to lather it and shave it off instead of mow it in the usual way. Out there they use their mowing machines to cut their whiskers.

Rev. Hanks is so tall that when he wants to put his hat on, he has to lift it up on a pole.

Rod Skibbs says there is a show called "The Climax" and, by giner, it seems funny that they should name a show after plug chowlin' tobacco.

Uncle Ez Perkins says he is always dead sure when he has a little touch of rheumatiz that we are going to have a storm or else some pleasant weather.

By giner, it is also a long time that has no line fence dispute.

THE GOOD OLD WINTER TIME.

Soon comes the good old winter time with all its shakos and chills, its soap stones and its arduity, its phasers and its pills, its rheumatiz and chilblains, and its asthma and its grip. Its flannels and its overcoats and even its weather strip; its blizzard from Dakota and its rain and sleet and snow which serve to oft remind you of the cold bills that you owe. The ladies' literary club have again struck their gags and father's getting supper now when mother stays out late. The nation's being cared for by the men down at the store. They're fixing up the politics for fifty years or more. The Christmas list is under way and mother is in doubt and she is worrying a lot on how she will come out. We're having buckwheat cakes again instead of corned beef hash and all the younger kids are skeered they'll break out with a rash. The baby has been sewed up for the winter in a sack and won't come out again until the rabbits have come back. Grandma is knitting mittens and the storm doors are all put up and mother has got Billy in 'most every glass and cup. The backyard's full of cordwood, and we are all fixed, by giner. Start the blizzards. See if we care. Let the doggone winter come.

RULES OF ETIQUETTE.
If you want to get in wrong right at the start, walk up to your hostess and tell her, pleasantly, that she is looking younger every year. You will have to wear your overcoat and ear muffs the rest of the evening to keep from being frost bitten.

Never ask for another squab, because there is generally only one for each guest even in the most extravagant households.

It is well to wear a red necktie, for they generally have tomato ketchup and nothing is more out of place than a few drops of ketchup on a tie which doesn't match in color.

Always manage to be an hour to an hour and a half late. That makes every body feel good and lends a tone of sarcasm to the conversation which places each at his ease.

Never eat pie with a spoon or knife. If it is the soft sort of pie that leaks through a fork use a sponge.

WOMEN'S FORTITUDE.

Have you ever seen the "bread line" in one of our big cities? If so, you have had a new viewpoint of human struggle. You have seen mortal existence reduced to the verge of starvation.

And here is a strange thing: You note the fact that the pathetic procession of the hungry is composed almost wholly of men. In the slow moving line of mendicants there are scarcely any women.

Look farther. Go down into the chop lodging house district. You find places where men lie down on the floor with a straw pillow under their heads for 5 cents a night. There is no such place for women.

Always men. Everywhere you go—at the missions, the charities, cheap lunch counters—old, middle aged and young men. And scarcely do you ever see a woman tramp or a female vagabond.

Where are the destitute, the old, the wretched women?

They are at work. They work at the sweatshops, where they never get too old to do bustling or too weak to carry a load of garments on their hands. They work on the streets with a bag on their backs looking for pieces of wood or of coal or of paper. They work kneeling on the floors and stairways of office buildings scrubbing with brush and pail.

They work! Rather than be a suppliant for bread a woman will starve or work her fingers to the bone.

That is the woman of it. Back in the savage days when primal man hunted or baited the woman hood the earth, reaped the grain, framed the hut, wove the clothing.

And later on— At her spinning wheel and kneading trough and pans of milk woman labored, as she labors today over kitchen range and by cradle side—cheerfully, ceaselessly, uncomplaining.

Seldom will any woman, however feeble or old, dodge the drudgery that falls to her lot. She is no traitor to toil. She is willing to do her share—and more—of the work of the world.

I blush for my sex.

Because, given equal conditions, where man proves the coward, throwing up his hands in despair, woman will labor on, frail though she be, through hardship and deprivation and make no outcry. She will work until she drops.

Why is it? Needs be better than man, why is woman braver than he?

Chief Sufferer in the Duel.

The cost of duels is dwelt upon by Aurellon Scholl in his "Romantic Encounters." He tells of the elaborate preparations made for a hostile encounter between two journalists whom he knew. One of them borrowed $200 from Scholl to meet his share of the expenses. This sum was never returned. "After ten minutes portuncious fencing," he adds, "the principals embraced each other, and both lost the ground without a scratch. I was the only man hit."

She Wanted to Know.
At one of the public schools in the city of Hamburg a little girl eleven years old asked her teacher who named Adam and Eve. It was said all like to know, but as the teacher couldn't answer the question she explained of the child and had her punished, and lost her place as teacher in consequence. The school board said it was all right for anyone to find out if he could. Can you tell?

"Paul Schulze Was Right"
SAYS PROF. SNYDER
Professor Harry Snyder the world renowned bread expert and chemist, is enthusiastic over Paul Schulze's comment that bread can be made better in modern bakeries than in the home kitchen. He said, "There is nothing better for food consumption when properly baked than bread."
"I am inclined to side with the statement that bakers' bread is better than that baked at home. There has been an immense improvement in the bakeries of the country in the past ten years."

HELD FOR TRIAL ON CHARGE OF ROBBING A CLOTHING STORE

Mike Vaskas, Caught Red-Handed Last Night, To Be Tried For Theft From Golden Eagle Store.

Mike Vaskas, a Greek, was arraigned in municipal court this morning, charged with the theft of five overcoats, two pairs of shoes, and a set of cobblers' tools from the Golden Eagle Clothing Company, where he was employed as a cobbler. Vaskas waived the right of examination and his trial was set for next Tuesday, September 19. His bonds were fixed at $500 which the prisoner was unable to furnish. Vaskas being unable to understand and speak English sufficiently, Nick Pappas acted as an interpreter.

Vaskas was captured last night after an exciting chase through back alleys, terminating at the corner of Dodge and South Franklin streets. The discovery of the thefts from the store was also purely accidental. Julius Levy, one of the proprietors of the Golden Eagle store, W. H. Francis and Thomas G. Murphy, advertising man for the Gazette, were in the alley at the rear of the Woolworth store, waiting for William P. Mosher, manager of the store, who was looking for a pair of shoes. They heard a noise from a shed near the rear of the Golden Eagle store.

A minute or so later they decided to investigate and started in pursuit of Vaskas. As he came into the light they saw he was carrying a bundle and hastened their steps. Vaskas ran in the rear door of a saloon on River street and Murphy and Levy entered through the front door. The two men met Vaskas in the rear of the saloon. Just as they entered Vaskas dropped the bundle of overcoats and kicked them into the shadow.

Questioned by Mr. Levy, the Greek said he had "some old clothes." Mr. Murphy, in the meantime had gone to the rear door to guard the outside. Mr. Levy bent over to look at the clothes and seeing the Golden Eagle label, said: "Mike, I want you." Vaskas, however, ran past Levy and out the door. Levy and Murphy both started after the Greek, who ran up the alley back of the postoffice to Dodge street. In front of the furniture store Murphy caught up with Vaskas and swung with his fist at the man, striking him on the side of the jaw. A minute later Mr. Levy seized Vaskas and he and Mr. Murphy started off with the prisoner. They met Officer Thomas Morrissey, who had followed them and turned Vaskas over to the officer. The five overcoats were taken to the police station. A search was made of Vaskas' room where he roomed and the two pairs of shoes and cobbler's tools were found in his trunk.

The man admitted the theft in the stolen shoes Tuesday, wrapping them up in a paper and carrying them off. The cents, he said, he took last night, throwing them out of the window of the shop to the ground below. He claimed that these were the only thefts he had committed, although it was at first suspected that a bundle of undergarments, which Vaskas had taken to the laundry were also stolen, but the prisoner claimed they were his own personal property.

Worry caused by marital and financial troubles is thought to have caused him to commit the robbery. His marriage relations have not been happy and he was trying to effect a reconciliation with his wife, who at present is located in California. She recently telegraphed him that if he would send a ticket and the money, she would return to Janesville. In order to get money for this purpose, it is thought, Vaskas took the coats, hoping to sell them and secured the necessary funds. The value of the stolen property is placed at about fifty dollars.

Stockman Case Adjourned.
The case of the state against Hugh Stockman, who is charged with attempted robbery of the person of Frank Fischer on Monday, which was set for this morning in municipal court, was adjourned to Saturday. Stockman secured bail bonds of $300 and was released.

Four Drunks.
Other work in the court this morning was of a routine nature, with regard to the disposal of drunkenness cases. Robert Welch was given a five day sentence to sober up in and John Hamilton drew three days in lieu of payment of a fine of $1 and costs. Paddy Miles and Charles West, who were charged as undesirable citizens, were given a chance to get out of town, sentence being suspended in their cases.

ANOTHER IN-LAW OF CHIEF OF POLICE APPEARS DYING

Chief Called to Beloit Today by Critical Condition of David Noble, Who Is Not Expected to Live.
Chief of Police George M. Appleby was called to Beloit this morning by the serious illness of his brother-in-law, David Noble, who is not expected to live through the day. Mrs. Appleby is at present visiting in Iowa and it was expected it would be necessary to send for her on account of her brother's condition. Two years ago Mr. Noble was operated on for an enlargement of the liver and for a time was apparently well. About four months ago his condition became worse and the doctors pronounced him as a dropsy. An operation was performed to remove the ingrowing matter and three weeks ago he was again operated on. Since then he has gradually been growing worse and this morning Mrs. Noble telephoned that her husband was unconscious and could not live. Mr. Noble is well known throughout the county.

TWO WEDDINGS WILL BE PERFORMED SOON

Announcement is Made of Two Marriages of Evansville People to Occur in Near Future.

Evansville, Sept. 14.—The wedding of Miss Maude Thomas of this city and Arthur Ellis of Brooklyn will take place next Wednesday afternoon at the home of the groom's parents, two and one-half miles south of Brooklyn. The wedding will be a quiet affair attended only by the relatives of the contracting parties. They will make their home in Brooklyn where Mr. Ellis is engaged in the hardware business.

Mrs. J. Dodgenberger and Mrs. John Sadler will entertain a company of ladies at the Dodgenberger home next Wednesday afternoon at a miscellaneous shower in honor of Miss Anna Mae Horne, whose marriage to Antonio Gelsdorf will occur on Wednesday morning, Sept. 27. The wedding will be solemnized at the St. Paul's Catholic Church here, Rev. William McDermott, reading the marriage service. Mrs. Frank Wurns of Janesville will be a guest at the shower on Wednesday next.

Personal.
Harry Pease, who has returned from the sanatorium at Pacific de Chien, Wis., is greatly improved in health and is able to walk down town daily.
Miss Ella Morgan of Cooksville visited local relatives yesterday.
Mr. and Mrs. J. Dodgenberger returned Tuesday from a visit with relatives in Janesville. On Wednesday Mr. Dodgenberger, accompanied by his brother-in-law, Frank Wurns, of Janesville, went to Waukesha on business, and they will spend the remainder of the week in Milwaukee at the state fair.

HUNTING LICENSE STORY A FABLE?

Supposed Dispatch From Plainfield, Published in Some Papers, Bears Marks of "Pipe Dream."

Lacking a sensation, some newspaper correspondent, added by the inspiration of the nicotine weed, evidently made up the following story, which was sent out to state papers. The dispatch is as follows:

Plainfield, Wis., Sept. 12.—J. W. Brown, a very public established a house when he issued a hunting license to Edward Smith, aged 11. Edward, who will hunt deer with his father, weighs 67 pounds and is 4 feet 6 inches tall. He is a good shot and expects to attach his name to a deer before the season ends.

The story is evidently one of the "pipe" kind, although it was published in some papers. Under the state laws, justices of the peace, notary publics, or any other persons than county clerk or their deputies, may not issue licenses. Furthermore, the Wisconsin game laws state that county clerks cannot issue licenses to anyone under fifteen years of age.

BRIEF LOCAL NEWS.

Aid Meets: The Ladies' Aid society of the Presbyterian church will meet at the church, Friday afternoon, at two o'clock for work.
Fire Scare: The back draft from a chimney in the Myers opera house block caused a small alarm of fire to be sent into the fire station from the 31st club last night. Some of the smoke drifted into the club rooms and caused a fear that fire had broken out. A wagon from the west side station was sent but the firemen could find no trace of fire.

For Janesville and vicinity: showers and thunderstorms tonight; Friday generally fair; brisk northwest to west winds with squalls.
Licensed to Wed: Marriage licenses were today issued to Christ Hanson and Benedetta Larsen of Bradford and Lee W. Barnard of Porter and Lilly M. Kimberley of Evansville. The latter couple secured a special permit to wed at once.

JANESVILLE PLOWS WIN MANY PRIZES AT RECENT CONTEST

Match Conducted by Illinois Farmers at Elg Rock Proves Superiority of Local Product.

The Janesville Machine Company's plow made an excellent showing at the recent contest held on a farm near the little village of Elk Rock, Ill. A Janesville sulky took the sweepstake prize and the silver cup offered for the best all around plow. Besides this in other classes as well Janesville machines took four firsts, three seconds, and two thirds. Janesville plows took first in every class in which they were entered, and the greatest victory that they have ever won, although this is the fifth sweepstake prize that they have been awarded in this match.

The judges are farmers who are sometimes added in their work by one of the professors from the agricultural school at the University of Illinois. The scores are marked on the kind of work the machines do, the condition the soil is left in and the manner in which plow operates both as to draft and ease of operation for man and team.

For the last seven years the farmers of the community have kept this contest going and have put the various plows to a practical test for their own enlightenment, irrespective of the manufacturers. The plows are all owned and operated by the farmers themselves and most of them have been in daily use before the match. The competition is open to all.

In connection with the plowing match a grain exhibit is held at which the farmers display their crops. Three or four thousand people witnessed the last match and the population for miles around brought their families and spent the day.

The Wheatland contest to be held Sept. 23 near Aurora, Ill. is a much larger affair and many more companies will have their machines there. This match has been running for thirty years and the competition will be more severe. The management of the Janesville Machine Company is confident, however, that their chance of winning is good and Janesville plows will again be heralded as the best in this section.

EQUINOCTIAL STORM IS NOW PREDICTED

Foster's Weather Bureau in Prediction Regarding Most Severe Disturbance of Month.

Last bulletin gave forecasts of disturbance to cross continent Sept. 15 to 18, warm wave 16 to 18, cool wave 17 to 21. The week of this disturbance will average cooler than usual, beginning with showers or threatening rain most of the week will be fair. Severe storms on the continent and tropical hurricanes are expected, but these tropical storms are not expected to be severe, just intense enough to cause cool weather on the continent.

Next disturbance will reach Pacific coast about Sept. 20, cross Pacific slope by close of 21, great central valleys 22 to 24, eastern sections 25. Warm wave will cross Pacific slope about Sept. 20, great central valleys 22, eastern sections 21. Cool wave will cross Pacific slope about Sept. 23, great central valleys 25, eastern sections 27.

This will be the greatest disturbance of the month and by herdsman, sailors, farmers, hunters, will be called the equinoctial storm. Temperatures will go high while the low approach from westward and in middle latitudes the temperatures will go to the front line when the high center shall have arrived. Not much rain. The rain wave will cross west of Rockies about Sept. 24, great central valleys 26, eastern sections 28.

The tropical storms mentioned above will increase in force as this last above described disturbance crosses the continent and as the two disturbances combine near the Atlantic coast the compound storm will be more severe than were the separate storms.

It is expected that rainfall and temperatures for 1913 will be worked out by last of October and will then work out 1914. Use the astronomical calculations of the mural observatory and they are published only three years in advance, therefore it will be inconvenient to work out the weather conditions more than three years in advance.

The November 21 sunspots will have an important bearing on the theory that a relation exists between sun spots, epidemics, and contagious diseases.

PRESIDENT TO FIGHT HIS WAY AROUND THE CIRCUIT.
President Taft and some of the Republican insurgents whom he will come in conflict with on his trip to the coast and return.

Top row left to right: Sen. Bourne of Oregon, Sen. Kenyon of Iowa, Pres. Taft, Representative Norris of Neb., Sen. Chapp of Minnesota. Middle row Sen. La Follette of Wisconsin, Sen. Borah of Idaho, Sen. Work of Calif., Sen. Cummins of Iowa. Below, Sen. Pinckney of Washington, Sen. Crawford of South Dakota. Below, Mass.—As President Taft starts on his way, around the circuit, he undoubtedly opens the Presidential campaign for 1912. In view of his recent speech at Hamilton, Mass.,

It now seems likely that he will, as he meets his various opponents in each state, take up the cudgel and fight his way through the territory, attacking men in their own localities and defending his policies. Inasmuch as the trip is to include over one half of the states and as it is supposed to take in much of the insurgent territory, the President will have his hands full and a straight fight on the shoulder speech ready for every day of his trip. He will undoubtedly be one of the most active campaigners ever inaugurated this far in advance of the Presidential election.

BATTLE'S BROTHER WINS EDUCATION

Charles H. Nelson brother of Battling Nelson who goes to Yale to become a Professor Berkeley, Cal., Sept.—Battling Nelson fought his way to the lightweight championship in the prize ring, but is remained for his brother, Charles Nelson, a student at the University of California to box his way into Yale and the special tutelage of Prof. Elmer C. Moore of the faculty of the eastern university.

Professor Moore came to Berkeley this summer to renew old acquaintanceship. Soon he felt the need of exercise, and he asked for a boxer to be his sparring partner. The famous champion brother was attending the university being aided financially by his kinship's earnings in the ring. The professor and the young athlete had daily sessions with the padded gloves. When Professor Moore leaves to resume his place at the head of the department of education at Yale, he will take his sparring partner with him. Professor Moore will defray Nelson's tuition at Yale, where the young man will work for a college degree and study medicine.

AT THEATERS

THE COW AND THE MOON.

Chas. A. Selmon's merriest of musical extravaganza, "The Cow and the Moon" will be seen here at the Myers Theatre, Saturday, September 16, matinee and evening. Mr. Selmon is duplicating his former success as a musical producer. "Happy" Time and Mike together with the beautiful Gend are the principal characters. The other characters include Great Domo, the ruler of the Moon; Patolena, an operatic star, with whom Domo falls in love; Albert, true and fearless; Rosa, the Cuban; Innocence, the maid who never saw a man; Tropic, the wise man of the Rock; Pickedon, the general of the Man in the Moon's army; the Moon demon; and Moon Beam; and Molly, the sacred cow, together with some thirty-five other characters of more or less importance, but who all help in the action of the piece.

The scenes, some sixteen in number, include as a starter, a quiet domestic scene in little old rural Northville, in Indiana, where Domo comes to seek his Moon Bride; securing her, all depart on their trip to the Moon, coming in a Pullman Palace Sleeping Car, where many ludicrous and funny situations take place. The next shows the train as it approaches apparently many miles away, and gradually coming nearer, first as a little speck on the horizon, and gradually growing larger and larger until the locomotive rushes down to the footlights, a huge, panting, spitting engine, head on. All go to sleep and the next scene shows Happy and Innocence in the Forest of Dreams, waiting in their sleep, the Maiden of the Mist appears and many startling and pleasing novelties; next the Japanese Palace of the Idol, with its wonderful Far East sunset and prismatic colors; then the race through the mountains of Tibet in automobiles, 11,000 miles a minute, never touching the ground, reaching the Great Fire Crater and the Wise Man of the Rock. Council is taken and the trip continued; refreshments are served at the Oriental Restaurant which is said to be one of the funniest scenes ever depicted on a stage. A visit is made to an Oriental Bazaar, and thence to the Palace of the Sacred Cow, Molly, whence all alighted to the Moon where all things are settled; the good Fairy restored and all ends happily.

"The Parisian Beauties," witty rapid humor, tuneful music, witty situations and an abundant display of handsomely gowned women in the chief claim of the management of "The Parisian Beauties," the delightful melodious mixture coming to the Myers theatre on Tuesday, Sept. 19. In the joyful offering comprises with a few exceptions none but lovely members of the ever bewitching femininity who in their gorgeous gowns and dazzling effects, add materially to the splendor of the entire attraction. "Splendor" the $10,000 spectacular electrical novelty will be an added feature. The staging of the whole entertainment, in regard to splendor and scenic effects, and the general attractiveness of the production, cannot be excelled by any of the so-called two dollar productions.

The Heart Breakers.
"The Heart Breakers" the most recent of musical comedy hits from the Princess Theatre, headed by George Bonner and a company of over fifty, who have been at the Myers Theatre on Friday, Sept. 22. The story of the "Heart Breakers" deals with the adventures of a band of bold young blades, whose avowed purpose in life is the kidnapping of girls. At this delicate art these ambitious youths are adepts, and they are well versed between the nice distinctions of the kiss caressing and the kiss compassionate, and the peck conjugal. They progress deviously on their mad oculoctory conquest until they attempt to expose their fatal fascinations upon an ingenuous maiden, who in the play is known simply as "The Girl," played by Miss Ruth Peckles. This alluring lassie has been brought up by her father in ignorance of masculine attentions, and she is moreover most jealously guarded by her watchful parent. In desperation, the hapless heart breaker disguises himself and enters the old gentleman's castle as servant. In order to be near their innamorata. They are, however, distraught by jealousy of one another, and many complications set in. Eventually, none the less, the Master Heart Breaker, George Damerel, pursues the Girl to a mountain fastness, succeeds in captivating the coy creature's heart, and at the cost of imminent marriage clears the bluish from the Heart Breaker's record. Her "Heart Breaker" will be a record. Her "Heart Breaker" will be a record. Her "Heart Breaker" will be a record.

The Store For You

WOMAN'S PAGE

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON.

"Acts may be forgiven. Not even God can forgive the hanger back."

—Robert Louis Stevenson.

THE MOST of the world, it seems to me, can be divided into two classes of people—those who think up obstacles and those who overcome or overrule them.

In almost every family is at least one constitutional wet blanket. Sometimes it is a woman; more often, it seems to me, a man. No matter what project is suggested, this person always opposes it. It is desired that a new flower bed be made in the garden. He is up in arms. The looks of the grounds would be spoiled. Long argument sometimes overcomes his objections, and in the end no one takes more pride in the dahlia that fills that new flower bed than he, but, Oh, the energy that had to be expended before the obstacles he thought up could be overcome!

A family outing is contemplated and straightway his family of a dozen objections. Perhaps the united efforts of the family overcome his objections. Perhaps the family vitality chances to be less abundant than usual and the project is given up simply for lack of energy to overcome his objections.

Even such a simple thing as the moving of a piece of furniture from one room to another is made the occasion for innumerable objections.

Life with such a person is just one long obstacle race. At the start, the wife or daughter or husband, or whatever relative bears the brunt of the situation, may take the obstacles gallantly, but by-and-by most of us who are not gifted with superhuman energy begin to slacken.

Some simply give up the race and lapse into weary quiescence. A few, like the spirited race horse, drop dead in their tracks. The epitaph for such a one should read, "She died of objections but she did gain."

The strangest thing about the whole matter to me is that so few, especially of the women, even seem to think for a moment that this state of affairs is anything else but inevitable.

One would expect them to realize how simple life would be if there were no one determined to make it complex, and to protest with vigor, but they seldom do any such thing.

Personally I am inclined to think it would be better if they did realize and did protest. "What might be some of the objection makers sufficiently decent to be reached by a plain talk, to be made to see how much unhappiness they caused, how much of other people's energy they wasted."

Surely it would at any rate be an experiment worth the trying.

Sanity is Self-Improvement.

SHE had read an article about being young with your children, and so she had let the youngsters invite in their young friends, and she was playing games with them. She was going into them with all the enthusiasm she could muster, because she wanted to do the right thing by her children. But she had to confess to herself, that it was a great bore and in the bargain, exceedingly wearisome.

A practical neighbor leaned over the fence and asked what she was doing. She stopped playing hide and seek long enough to explain. The children kept on with whoops of merriment.

The practical neighbor said, "You're foolish. You are wearing yourself out, and you are wasting time, and the kids would have much more fun without you."

Lots of women are, like this anxious little mother, wearing themselves out in a vain effort to be progressive. They are terribly ambitious to do the right thing, whether it is to keep themselves in touch with the times, or to be the right sort of wife, or to keep house in the most up-to-date way. The hue and cry to be all that they ought to be has got them on the run. And they are running so fast and furiously, that they have neither time nor energy to see whether they are going, nor any of the beautiful spots they are passing by.

Somewhere tells them they should join women's clubs, and straightway they join, and rush frantically around gathering information for innumerable papers they must prepare.

Or they read somewhere how necessary it is to keep one's physical appearance up to par, that it is a duty they owe themselves to be dainty and well groomed, and straightway they wear themselves out exercising and massaging and doing beauty stunts.

It is all well intentioned. And they are in the right in their efforts. But they defeat the very ends they are trying to accomplish by going about it in such a frenzied fashion, or overdoing it. The trouble lies not in the effort itself, but in the fact that they have no standards of their own as to what they ought to do, no inner voice to tell them what and how much. They are guided entirely by the voice of others. And they run hither and yon, and faster and faster, as the world says, "Do this" and "Do that."

Women who are anxious to keep in step with the march of progress, but who are wearing themselves out in doing it, should pause and study themselves a bit. They should see what it is they most need, and how much they can stand. Then they should start in to accomplish the possible. They will find that they will no longer be harried and worried and worn out, with little ready to show for their efforts, but that the improvement they seek will be there, and the current of life will flow smoothly and serenely and not be whipped into eddies and whirls.

Thought for Today

By MRS. ROBERT M. LAVOLLETTE.

HOME ECONOMICS.

A RECENT bulletin of the University of Wisconsin calls attention to the fact that women, without any training or adequate knowledge of money value, spend at least ninety per cent of the ten billion dollars paid out annually in the United States for food, shelter, and clothing. It has received wide newspaper comment as though it were a revelation on the extravagance and inefficiency of women. The real purpose of the bulletin is that home management should be on a scientific basis, and women should be trained to it as a business.

Who can imagine the result if this were so? First of all women would have the responsibility and the control of the business. It would be conceded that she must decide how much can be paid for shelter, food, clothing, and higher living, and keep within the income.

In the unscientific haphazard way we now live men, more often than women, determine this fundamental thing. They have the house they want, the clothes that please them, the food they like, and really determine the scale of life. Women are expected to overcome the high cost of living with small economies which, though they spend all their time bargain hunting and haggling the butcher and grocer, can have but a trifling effect on the total result.

When women—and men—really understand that household management can be put on a scientific basis, and that the price of food, clothing, and shelter are controlled by trusts and combinations as surely as electric lights and freight rates, then they will see that their individual problem is to fix the scale of living and to make it within the income. They will understand that it is their public duty to do all they can to secure and enforce legislation that will control prices and weights, and that will insure storage, purity, reliability and honesty in merchandise.

Companionable to the Young.

Engrossed with home obligations the mother is never in a position to appreciate as her sister in the commercial field does, the wisdom of being companionable with the youthful boy and girl; of knowing every single detail which affects their young lives, of keeping in touch with every playmate and knowing every move the youngsters make. A little tact and diplomacy will work wonders in ascertaining facts worth knowing.

Hardly Complimentary.

In a Western town one of its great men was returning from a long trip abroad, and the citizens erected a triumphal arch from which they suspended a wreath by a rope. The arch bore the inscription, "He has well deserved it." A gust of wind carried off the wreath, so that when the honored man marched under the arch the rope dangled over his head and the legend on the arch read, "He has well deserved it."

The ANCHOVY CABINET

LIFE is a voyage. The winds of life come strong from every point; yet each will speed thy course along.

It thou with steady hand when tempests blow
Canst keep thy course aright and never once let go.

WAYS OF USING THE ANCHOVY.

This dainty little Mediterranean herring is most delicate eating and adds a zest to any dish to which it is added. They are immediately pickled or salted as they are taken from the water, and come to us in many different preparations: The anchovy paste, which is useful in many ways, as a flavor in macaroni or salad, essence of anchovy also used as a flavor, anchovy butter, anchovies pickled in oil, and simply salted; they are every one most appetizing. When served cold or white fish with a white sauce, a little anchovy essence adds greatly to the flavor of the dish. Added to a plain butter sauce it makes a decidedly different dish.

Olives stuffed with anchovies are most dainty and useful as an accompaniment to a salad.

Anchovies a la Millionaire.—This recipe, which the name indicates, is not for every day use, but is certainly one worth having for a state occasion. This may be served as a canape.

Prepare some neat squares or rounds of toast, butter them and spread thickly with the following paste: Stir in a double boiler the yolk of an egg, two tablespoonsful of butter and two tablespoonsful of anchovy paste, a teaspoonful of mushroom catsup, six olives finely chopped, and half a cup of cream. Cook together until smooth. Be careful not to let it boil, then spread over the toast. Over this heap a half cup of whipped cream and garnish with halves of anchovies boned and soaked in milk. Lay the strips so that the ends meet at the top. Either serve at once or chill and serve cold.

Canapes of Anchovies.—Have some round pieces of bread cut with a biscuit cutter and fried in deep fat. Chop fine some hard-boiled eggs, season with chervil and chives. (Chervil looks much like parsley when growing, but has a characteristic flavor.) Place the chopped eggs and herbs in a dish and mix with a little mayonnaise, chopped olives, pepper and salt. Spread this mixture on the bread and lay strips of anchovies lattice work fashion over them. Garnish with parsley and serve.

R.B. WATSON

MRS. HARRIET B. CONEY

Shocks Man Who is Alleged To Have Wrecked Home Life

Chicago, Ill., Sept.—Refusing to swallow the bitter pill of being cast aside by the man, she says wrecked her home, Mrs. H. B. Coney, shot Robert Watson a wealthy Chicago architect, director of the Chicago Athletic Association, well known contractor and chairman, wounding him twice.

The shooting occurred in front of the Watson Residence, 225 S. Central Park ave., where the architect lives with his mother and sister Mrs. Darling, shortly after Watson had slammed the door in Mrs. Coney's face.

One of the bullets struck him above the right ear and the other lodged in the thigh. Following the shooting the woman calmly justified her act by telling a policeman that "he ought to be her husband."

Mrs. Coney has been living for some months at the Brevoort Hotel. She admits as does her husband it is alleged that Robert H. Watson is the man who broke up their home life. Friends of Watson and his relatives claim to have never heard of Mrs. Coney until the shooting. It is thought that Watson will recover. Legal proceedings will be brought at once against Mrs. Coney.

MAKING THE CONSTITUTION.

By A. W. MACY.

Making the Constitution of the United States was not an easy task. The convention sat daily in Philadelphia from May 25 to September 17, 1787. There were some very able men in it, and on some questions there were almost as many opinions as there were members. The discussions were carried on in a dignified manner, but a great deal of compromising was necessary in order to reach an agreement.

On July 10 General Washington, president of the convention, wrote Hamilton that he almost despaired of a favorable outcome, and regretted having had anything to do with the matter. When the Constitution was finally framed up and signed it was agreed to forward it to congress, which should submit it to the various legislatures, and that it should be considered adopted when ratified by the legislatures of nine states. In the state legislatures it had a rocky road to travel. "The ninth state" to adopt it was New Hampshire, on June 21, 1788. New York, North Carolina and Rhode Island adopted it later. In only three states, Delaware, New Jersey and Georgia, was the legislative vote to adopt it unanimous. Pennsylvania adopted it by a two-thirds majority. In Rhode Island the majority was only two. In other states the vote stood: Connecticut, 128 to 40; Massachusetts, 187 to 168; Maryland, 63 to 12; South Carolina, 149 to 73; New Hampshire, 57 to 46; Virginia, 89 to 79.

THE FIRST WHITE CHILD BORN IN AMERICA.

By A. W. MACY.

On July 22, 1567, a colony sent out by Sir Walter Raleigh landed at Roanoke, Virginia. In this colony, it is said, were ninety-one men, seventeen women and nine children. The colony was incorporated as "The Borough of Raleigh in Virginia," and John White was chosen governor. His daughter, August Eleanor, had married one of the colonists, a young man named Dare. On August 13 Mrs. Dare gave birth to a daughter, to whom was given the name Virginia. She was the first white child born in America. Shortly after her birth Governor White returned to England for supplies. He remained longer than he had intended, and when he finally got back to Roanoke the colony had disappeared. He searched long and anxiously for the missing members, among whom were his daughter and his grandchild. But the lost colony was never found. Probably the older members were massacred by the Indians, and the children scattered among the various tribes. Thus the first white child born in America, if she grew up to womanhood, probably passed her life in savagery and remembered nothing of the ways of civilization.

REV. E. D. KOHLSTEDT IN STRONG APPEAL BEFORE CONVENTION

PASTOR OF BELOIT M. E. CHURCH
GAVE ADDRESS AT W. C. T. U. MEETING LAST EVENING.

SESSIONS ARE CLOSED

Twenty Fifth Annual Convention Completed Work Yesterday—Resolutions Adopted.

At the closing session of the twenty-fifth annual convention of the Rock County Christian Temperance Union, Rev. E. D. Kohlstedt, pastor of the M. E. church there, delivered a very powerful address on the subject of "Saloon versus Home." Rev. Kohlstedt in an eloquent and forceful speaker and he dealt with the liquor in no uncertain manner, placing blame where he thought it should be placed, and clearly representing the dangers of the liquor traffic. He spoke in part as follows:

"We are pleased to think that the home is the most sacred of our institutions, and it is. It is the most precious of all the blessings that God has given us. We are pleased to surround it with our highest ideals; we are anxious that it should be ever careful to guard it from besetting dangers that may creep in from influences outside."

"We talk of the evils which surround the home and the dangers which threaten its development. We talk of the conditions in the tenement districts in the large cities and there are great philanthropies and charitable societies formed to combat the dangers to mankind living in these congested centers. But when we actually reckon with the most numerous dangers to the home we find that the greatest of all is whiskey, that the arch-enemy is the saloon. Personally it seems to me that drink is the demon which creeps into the home and robs it of its purity, its sanctity and its peace."

"The American has the name of being a 'sensible' man. Throughout the world the American traveler is considered an 'easy mark' and they have justification for that opinion when we consider the tremendous amount of money that is annually spent abroad. The estimated amount of American money spent in Europe yearly is four hundred million dollars and when we add to that the amount of money which is exported, the total sum is really appalling."

"But when we consider the things that go to make up the home budget we find that our extravagance is the dream of the imagination. We spend seven and a half millions a year for foreign missions. We spend eleven millions annually for chewing gum. Eighty million for millinery, one hundred million for candy, one hundred million for confectionery, two hundred million for the maintenance of all churches and religious institutions; seven hundred million for all jewelry and plate; seven hundred and fifty million for tobacco; and one and one quarter billions for intoxicating beverages. Add to this latter amount what is sold over the counters of the drug stores and you will have a total of two billion dollars. We spend thirteen times for drink what we do for education of our young. Five times as much for drink as for bread. The figures are appalling."

"The labor problem and the liquor traffic has a close relation and is vitally connected with the future of our young nation and young womanhood. A recent writer has stated that there was a decrease of intellectual efficiency of ten per cent in one year in persons using intoxicating liquors."

"The speaker also presented figures to show that the workingman's efficiency was decreased in a marked degree by the use of alcohol even in moderate quantities. Speaking further he said:

"In Milwaukee the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Company will not write insurance for persons connected in any way with the liquor traffic."

"Railroads and commercial enterprises everywhere have found it to their financial advantage to come out against liquor and to hire men when possible, who are not accustomed to its use. It is a matter of business not sentiment."

"The speaker then took up the moral side of the evil and showed that the traffic destroyed the affection of the home. He gave figures graphically showing the crime which is traced to the liquor evil. 'Thirteen men every day,' he said, 'lay hands on their own lives and become suicides driven by intoxicating drink. 149 women are widows every day in the year on account of the evil. 1165 pure girls today sacrificed the priceless possession of womanhood on the altar of whiskey and strong drink and every day in the year 1215 boys took their first drink today.'"

"But the outlook is encouraging. Recent and liquor legislation is sweeping the country and the traffic hangs in the balance."

"The speaker gave a number of figures showing the increase of 'dry' in the United States in the last few years and expressed the opinion that prohibition was 'the winning side.' In spite of the money power of the breweries and distilleries, he pointed out, the tide had been gaining for temperance and now one half the nation was 'dry' territory. He explained the attitude of the Germans and stated that they have been misunderstood in many instances for they were against the saloon and should be allied with the temperance forces. In closing he said:

"You are called the Women's Christian Temperance Union and you are at the head of the church. The saloon and the church cannot thrive together, but the church is destined to be the victor. I am sometimes called a fanatic, but as long as I have the power I shall fight for the eradication of this evil from the face of the earth."

Resolutions Adopted.
The following resolutions were adopted by the Rock County W. C. T. U. in convention assembled, yesterday afternoon:

Resolved: That we reaffirm our allegiance to the fundamental principles of our organization, and believing the liquor traffic to be the greatest foe to righteousness and good citizenship, we will not cease our efforts for its overthrow and final annihilation.

Resolved: That inasmuch as we believe in a white life for both sexes we fully endorse the movement to introduce a course of sex hygiene in the public schools.

Resolved: That in view of the great harm being done to boys and young men by the use of cigarettes, we urge a more strict enforcement of our anti-cigarette law.

Resolved: That we believe a great injustice is being done in our country in allowing only male citizens the right of suffrage, and we will use our influence in all proper ways that all citizens may have the ballot without regard to sex.

Resolved: That, realizing we shall be in the midst of an important campaign next year and that we must make the most of every opportunity to win votes for the proposed amendment to our state constitution which aims to confer the right of suffrage upon Wisconsin women, we respectfully ask the members of the Rock County Fair association to give us one day at the fair, in 1912 to be distinguished as "Woman's Day."

Resolved: That we express our hearty thanks to the Women's Christian Temperance Union of Janesville for the ample provision made for the comfort of the members of the convention; to the citizens who have opened their homes so hospitably for our entertainment; to the trustees of the Methodist Episcopal church for the use of their beautiful edifice; to the pastor and his wife for their efficient help; to all who have entertained us with music and recitations; to the Janesville papers for their notice and report of convention, and to any and all others who have in any way contributed to the success of this convention.

Respectfully submitted:
Mrs. H. R. Osborn, Milton.
Mrs. M. M. Boyd, Lima Center.
Miss H. M. Vorhees, Clinton.
Mrs. George C. Chaffee, Beloit.
Mrs. C. L. Shuman, Evansville.
Mrs. H. E. Schraeder, Milton, etc.

Mrs. Mattie Wilcox, Hartwood.
The following are the plans of work for the coming year:

We would recommend that each member take as far as possible, and let us all join together in two or more, thus all receiving the great benefit of our papers.

We also recommend that nearly all unite together in all-day meetings to institute work or otherwise; if not possible to do this send some member to visit with other unions, thus advancing new ideas and thoughts.

As the suffrage question is to come before the people at the next election we recommend that all unions faithfully study this subject and help to advance public sentiment in its favor. We recommend to each union the election of their brightest woman as press superintendent.

We recommend that each local union put forth special effort to help teachers in presenting our work and to that end that they put into the hands of each teacher in their vicinity, the temperance educational quarterly for the year.

We earnestly recommend that each local union earnestly labor to push the work for county option to refute the arguments in the printed matter sent out by the brewing interests against county option, believing with the brewers that county option leads to the late-wide prohibition.

That the cry for 1912 from each member be, "I'll win one more for my cause this year."

Respectfully submitted:
Mrs. Elsie Hild, Janesville.
Mrs. Boyd, Lima Center.
Mrs. Carrie M. H. Dresser, Clinton.

Afternoon Session.
The Wednesday afternoon gathering was opened by Memorial Hour in charge of Mrs. C. M. H. Dresser of the Clinton Union.

The Schmitz of the Milton Union of local prayer.

The year's record showed four promoted members in the local organizations: Mrs. M. J. Hall of Milton Union, Mrs. Inez Miller Evansville Union, Mrs. Bessie Dickerman Vester and Mrs. Margaret Akley of Clinton Union of whom loving tender mention was made.

Left over reports of superintendents of Departments were given and received with pleasure.

The name of Mrs. Geo. Swanson of the Beloit Union was omitted from report of yesterday's delegation. Other delegates coming Wednesday are Mrs. M. J. Schraeder and Mrs. C. M. H. Dresser of Clinton; Mrs. F. A. Clark and Mrs. Shaw of Milton; Mrs. Shuman of Evansville; Mrs. Flora Rice and Mrs. E. L. Blumhagen of Hartwood; and Mrs. Bessie Woodstock and Mrs. P. E. Warren, Lima Center; also Dr. Elsie Schmitz, County Superintendent of Medical Temperance of the Milton Union. Mrs. C. G. Haskins of Alpena, South Dakota, was also in attendance throughout the entire convention.

The afternoon program was carried out as published, the papers receiving the unanimous pleasure of the convention. It was voted that Mrs. Schraeder's paper of the Evansville Union, "The Two Rivers," should be printed in the W. C. T. U. state paper, "Sisters' Chimes," by Mrs. C. M. H. Dresser of Clinton Union, took the convention along the history of years up to now, the silver anniversary of Rock county organization.

MISERY FROM INDGESTION

OR SICK, SOUR, GASSY STOMACH.

A little Diapain makes your out-of-order stomach feel fine in five minutes.

The question as to how long you are going to continue to suffer from indigestion, dyspepsia or out-of-order stomach is merely a matter of how soon you begin taking some Diapain.

If your stomach is lacking in digestive power, why not help the stomach to do its work, not with drastic drugs, but a reinforcement of digestive agents, such as are naturally at work in the stomach.

People with weak stomachs should take a little Diapain occasionally, and there will be no more indigestion, no feeling like a lump of lead in the stomach, no heartburn, sour risings, gas on stomach or belching of undigested food, headaches, dizziness or sick stomach, and, besides, what you eat will not ferment and poison your breath with nauseous odors. All these symptoms resulting from a sour, out-of-order stomach and dyspepsia are generally relieved in five minutes after taking a little Diapain.

Go to your druggist and get a 50-cent case of Paper's Diapain now, and you will always go to the table with a hearty appetite, and what you eat will taste good, because your stomach and intestines will be clean and fresh, and you will know there are not going to be any more bad nights and miserable days for you. They freshen you and make you feel like life is worth living.

NOTES FOR CITY FARMERS ONLY.

(By H. L. RANS.)

Nothing will bring a Crosby-style cuss word out of a mild husband quicker than the roll top window curtain with a rebound to it like a goat with the string-halt.

This kind of a shade is as uncertain as the action of store teeth, and it has caused many a man to expose the fragile beauties of a hair pin physique to the admiring gaze of the neighbors.

They will have to go some to beat the old style wooden blinds which closed up tighter than a knuckle-kneed man in a crowded street car.

We fail to understand why the society push of our great cities has discarded the feather bed. This is a grave mistake. As our mothers made this bed, it was impossible for an inquisitive goose quill to poke its head through the ticking and perforate the biceps of the sleeper, but they have so adulterated the product nowadays that a man hardly dares to crawl into a feather bed without being ribbed up like an Arctic explorer.

The only thing that will restore the feather bed to favor is to have it covered by the pure foam law.

Don't stick up your nose at the King drag. It will make a sour road look sweet in less time than any other device known to man. The only objection to it is that it is too blamed simple. It ought to have three or four fly wheels, fifty of sixty cones and a few hundred roll springs attached to it. Then if $255 f. o. b. Chicago were charged for it, it might come into general use. As it is, it is handicapped by cheapness. No man wants a road drag which costs only a few boards off the back fence, a bolt or two from the windmill and a fistful of skinned knuckles.

Particularly the Ladies.

Not only pleasant and refreshing to the taste, but gently cleansing and sweetening to the system, Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna is particularly adapted to ladies and children, and beneficial in all cases in which a wholesome, strengthening and effective laxative should be used. It is perfectly safe at all times and dispels colds, headaches and the pains caused by indigestion and constipation so promptly and effectively that it is the one perfect family laxative which gives satisfaction to all and is recommended by millions of families who have used it and who have personal knowledge of its excellence.

Its wonderful popularity, however, has led unscrupulous dealers to offer imitations which act unsatisfactorily. Therefore, when buying, to get its beneficial effects, always note the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—plainly printed on the front of every package of the genuine Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna.

For sale by all leading druggists. Price 50 cents per bottle.

TO RETIRE FROM SENATE.

Senator Joseph W. Bailey from his most recent photograph taken just after he returned from Washington.

Gainesville, Texas.—Senator Joseph W. Bailey upon his return to Gainesville made the formal announcement that at the end of his present term he would return home to stay and would not be a candidate for re-election in the United States Senate. It is hardly known whether to take Senator Bailey seriously or not in view of the recent resignation which he wired the Texas governor on March 4th last. Dr. Gov. Colquhoun had a chance to accept the resignation Bailey had withdrawn it. It is believed that his decision not to seek re-election was born in a conviction that he would lose if he did.

THE GRIP OF PAIN

Do You Want to Be Released?

Do You Want to Get Well?

All pain and disease are manifestations of spinal imbalances, pinched nerves shutting off like water is shut off in a kinked hose, the flow of energy from the brain through the spinal nerve to the throat, bronchial tubes, heart, lungs, kidneys, liver, spleen, abdomen, arms, legs, and any and every other part of the body. Paralyze the nerve functions and you have disease, pain.

The Chiropractors adjust the spine, (removes the cause)—the nerve pressure, and permits Nature to assume its former condition, you then get well.

Bring your pain to us today—put off no longer the opportunity which thousands of others have found and tested—their experience, their return to health—is your hope.
